

Fish

Silver Bream

Bream are the fish most commonly found in large numbers in the mangroves. They find protection in hollows under creek banks and among the mangrove roots that line the creek banks. They feed upon small fish, prawns, yabbies and also upon young oysters by crushing the oyster shells with their teeth.